

Sierra Gold Quilter's Guild
Business Meeting Minutes
July 8, 2014

The meeting was opened at Some time after 10:00, with board members Joan Costello, Lannie Staniford, Cookie Braunschweig

Pledge of Allegiance: Led by Mary Ann

Guests: ^{MOVA} Ray Cunha who is new in the area and visiting various local guilds

Reminders: Parking & Name tags

Announcements: Janis Roller has had to resign as Secretary. Lannie Staniford has been roped into substituting for her for the rest of the year....What price friendship.....
Don't forget to sell or buy Opportunity Quilt tickets

Minutes: Total confusion! Which we would like to think unusual but it isn't. Both Joan and Lannie forgot to bring last months minutes. Lannie winged it.....no immediate complaints forthcoming and she Promises to do better next time.

Treasurer's Report: We still have money. Balance as of end of June $15,524.and 6 cents but who's counting

VP Report: June's class was a lot of fun and folks actually finished their projects! Don't forget August is the community quilt workshop. Anybody know of a paper piecing teacher?

Committee Reports

- Quilt show: YES it's getting to be that time again. Volunteers are needed for the quilt challenge and publicity.
- Donation quilts: donated a quilt to the owners of our meeting facility. We really don't want to move....
- Pat Bjerke had an almost finished Hand quilted quilt ^{donated by Barbara Hare} and asked for volunteers to finish same. Mary Ann Englebreckson volunteered!
- Penny Dominici gave report on white glove for fair
- Jackie Shanklin noted the abysmal lack of treats today. Only Joan Costello, who has a chronic condition of saying yes to almost everything, brought an edible. Come on ladies and gentlemen...are we all on a fast?
- Library small quilt display, Bring these to the August meeting see newsletter for sizes and additional detials
- Community quilts again reminded us of the workshop. They especially need more "boys" quilts. 5 quilts and 5 Clothing protectors were turned in today.
- Sarah Dougherty advised that the sunshine committee will advise in the newsletter when one of our members needs a bit of cheering. Always with the condition of confidentiality.

Sam advised he will take this info out of the newsletter on the website since it was public and we wanted the information to stay within the Guild.

- Raffle: Raffle ladies forgot to get new tickets and so ran out of doubles. Raffle customers had to write their names on the ticket in the bucket. (We seem to have all been suffering from heat stroke, thirst or general mindlessness between no minutes, no food and no raffle tickets)

Show and Tell/Break

More announcements: Hand sewing after meeting, remember November's craft fair, Visitor Ray ^{M.A.} joined up despite our communal nervous breakdown. Quilts to the fair on 7/19 10am to 4pm

The raffle was held and went quickly since we could still remember our names...at least Alex, Mary Ann, Valerie and New Member Ray ^{M.O.V.A.} still could. (Why do new members always win the raffle?)

No new business or old business that anyone could remember so we held the mini quilt show and adjourned at about 11:30. Schatzi would be proud of us.
