UPTON

Announcements: Sam: there is a machine embroidery class. See flyer in Foyer. Schatzi not here. Therefore Joan C. will need to wear several hats today...she brought them so she could wear them and we'd all know who she was at any time. Speaking of hats, Lois Brand can't do chemo caps any more. We did do lots of caps but need to have a coordinator to manage distribution etc. Mary Foster volunteered. Shiela needs someone to help her wear the library hat and take over next year. Much was said regarding the rewards of this job but nobody volunteered!. Perhaps Sheila's over the top good job is intimidating folks.

Minutes & Treasurer's Report: Read and not objected to.

VP Report: Joan changed hats and advised: See the forest on the class table for what we did in the last class. Rami Kim's Class will be in October Please don't forget to pay. The Arts and Crafts Fair is still on for after the Nov. Meeting. Sign ups for next year's classes will be at the next meeting.

Committee Reports: Joan changed hats again and with Quilt show committee co Chair Pat gave a report on next year's quilt show. Still need volunteers see Joan and/or Pat. Pat changed hats and reported on Donation Quilts and the current Opp. Quilt. She advised that during the recent fire scare in her neighborhood she only grabbed the Opp. Quilt raffle stubs when evacuating. Janis reported on community quilts. Debbie advised those working on paper piecing project for the Xmas cards to leave $\frac{1}{2}$ inch on the outside edge. Mary Foster announced that one raffle ticket will be given for anyone bringing canned goods to the meeting for the food bank. Raffle ladies announced their goodies.

We had Show & Tell and a break

Announcements Part 2: Xmas stockings and stuffer stuff should be brought next month. The ARC project will take place in January.

Raffle was held and almost all the winners were from one table....and it wasn't MINE

Old business: Nominating committee is almost done, Rochelle will install officers

Mini quilt show was held and next month will be embellished quilts and fall quilts.

Adjourned: 12:00
